

Thermoseal Acquires Solutions UK

Thermoseal expands Fenzi Group's Commercial Reach in the Glass Industry.

Thermoseal, a leading manufacturer and distributor of insulating glass components and part of the Fenzi Group, is proud to announce the acquisition of Solutions UK, a respected British sales agency serving the glass and glazing sector. This strategic move strengthens Thermoseal's commercial network across the UK and Northern Ireland, reinforcing the Fenzi Group's commitment to customer proximity and market responsiveness.

Solutions UK has long been recognized for its deep industry expertise and strong relationships with glass processors. By joining Thermoseal, the agency will gain access to a broader portfolio of high-performance products and benefit from the resources and global reach of the Fenzi Group.

“Solutions UK brings exceptional market insight and customer service capabilities. Together, we’ll be even better positioned to support our clients with tailored solutions and faster response times.” said Mark Hickox, Sales Director of Thermoseal

Solutions UK will continue operating under its established name and team. As part of Thermoseal and the wider Fenzi Group, it will play a key role in expanding commercial operations and delivering integrated support to customers across the region.

The acquisition reflects Fenzi Group’s strategic vision to build a robust, customer-centric global network that drives innovation and excellence in glass processing.
